All rights for original resources held on this VLE are reserved by Wycombe High School on behalf of the authors. All documents and graphics remain the “intellectual property” of their authors and/or designers. No part of the VLE may be reproduced or distributed in any form, other than for the private purposes of users or in accordance with the terms of the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988, without the permission of the School.

The copyright of all contributions to this VLE remain with Wycombe High School, except where expressly indicated as belonging to others. Wycombe High School holds exclusive rights in respect of electronic publication and dissemination. No part of this VLE may be posted or in any way mirrored on any other part of the internet without permission from Wycombe High School.

Subject to the above, permission is granted to download items for offline reading and use subject to the following conditions:

1. Print outs should not be sold for profit purposes.
2. Permission is granted to download articles, store them electronically on disk, and make multiple copies for educational or personal purposes, subject to the following condition.
3. No charge should be made for access to users with the educational establishment. Wycombe High School's name, or the name of an individual author, should remain attached to any copies. Please contact Wycombe High School, if necessary, for clarification of these terms or if you wish to use the material outside the permissions given above.

Photographs and Personal Privacy

Some parts of the VLE can be accessed by anyone on the Internet. Photographs that include students add a liveliness and interest to a VLE that is difficult to achieve in any other way. Nevertheless the personal security of students and staff must come first. Sadly, although common in newspapers, the publishing of students' names with large photographs of students is not acceptable. Web images could be misused and individual students identified. To this end, on areas on the VLE visible to the general public without logging in or using an enrolment key, Wycombe High School will ensure:

- Photographs that include students will be selected carefully and will not enable individual students to be identified.
- Permission from parents will be sought before clearly identifiable photographs of students are published on publically accessible parts of the VLE. An individual student's full name will not be published alongside her photograph. If a contact person is given, this will be a teacher, not a student.
- No other identifying material will be posted on the VLE (such as personal phone numbers and home addresses).

Wycombe High School reserves the right to remove, vary or amend any of the content which appears on the VLE at any time and without prior notice.

When submitting postings or assignments within the VLE you must give due acknowledgement for material quoted from other sources, both within the VLE and elsewhere.
